Are your benefit costs sky-rocketing?
Do you have an epidemic of absenteeism?
Do your workers' compensation premiums rise every year?
Have you been sued for discrimination claims on the basis of an alleged disability?
Is your H.R. office inundated with FMLA requests and scribbled doctor's notes?
Has the health of your workforce had an impact on your productivity and bottom line?
Does your company have its own expert medical resource to help you solve these problems?

If you are ready to confront these tough issues with the guidance of an accomplished board-certified occupational medicine physician who has your business's interests in mind, then your headaches are over!

INSTANT MD IS JUST WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED!

With 15 years of experience as a corporate medical director, treating occupational physician, and advisor to numerous companies large and small, Instant MD's Medical Director, Tim Pinsky, has the solution to your problems. Dr. Pinsky has a proven track record of applying sound medical principles to the workplace and obtaining results. He has successfully:

Created and chaired company safety committees, performed injury trend analysis and implemented interventions, reviewed FMLA applications, verified the validity and appropriateness of employee absences, worked on ADA panels, conducted effective case management for W/C and personal illness cases, started drug testing and substance abuse programs, set up respirator protection programs, developed emergency preparedness protocols, published research articles, educated employers, attorneys, and human resource personnel, trained supervisors, completed ergonomic evaluations, completed thousands of independent medical evaluations, assisted in fraud investigations, coordinated wellness fairs, as well as testified and provided litigation support for insurance carriers and their clients.

Instant MD helps you develop a strategy for making health part of your business. We provide a central medical resource to coordinate the disparate demands that health issues place on your business. We do this by providing:

- Real workers' compensation case management, not just tagging along.
- Identification of critical moments in the course of treatment.
- Aggressive direct interaction with treating providers.
- Effective solutions founded in evidence-based medicine.
- Managing worker health and its impact.
